

Ballot Measure 9 is a chilling portrayal of a divisive anti-gay campaign and the unprecedented violence it provoked — such that activists risking their lives were given full-time police protection. For the crusaders on the right it was a “simple battle between good and evil.” Director Heather Lyn MacDonald ducks behind the headlines to bare the passions and strategies that drove both sides. As the level of violence escalates, Ballot Measure 9 acquires the tension and suspense of a fiction film, and evolves into a far-ranging exposé of hate politics that crosses lines of race, religion, and sexual identity.

“A picture to make you scream.”
–The Nation

BALLOT MEASURE 9

“Cuts to the heart of the current political climate.”
–New York Times

“Easily one of the best movies of the year...positively simmers.”
–Los Angeles Weekly

“Burns with energy.”
–Bay Area Reporter

A FILM BY HEATHER LYN MACDONALD

A SOVEREIGN / RYKO DISTRIBUTION RELEASE
 OF A TOOTS CRACKIN PRODUCTION

FREE SCREENING

Never before shown in the South Bay!

When: Thursday, September 10, 2009

Time: 6:30 PM

Where: Billy DeFrank Center
 938 The Alameda, San José

Event sponsored by Marriage Equality Silicon Valley and the Billy DeFrank Center.
Donations to the Billy DeFrank Center are welcome.

